THOUSANDS WILL SAY FAREWELL TO REBS AT BENEFIT GAME TO-DAY

All Richmond Will Travel to Broad Street Park This Afternoon to Watch Newsham and His Men Play Collegians-General Reception After Game.

BY GUS MALBERT.

Never in the history of the city of Richmond has anything made so popular an appeal to the people as the benefit ball game which will be played in Broad Street Park this afternoon, beginning at 4:30 o'clock, between Al Newnham and his Rebs and a picked team, largely composed of the Collegians.

The worthiness of the cause—payment of salaries to the team—realization that it will be the final opportunity to see these favorites of the diamond in action civic pride in religion to allow a largely and a second control of the diamond in action civic pride in religion to allow a largely and a second control of the diamond in action civic pride in religions to allow a largely and a second control of the diamond in action civic pride in religions to allow a largely and the diamond in action civic pride in religions to allow a largely and the diamond in action civic pride in religions to all the diamond in action civic pride in religions.

ites of the diamond in action, civic pride in refusing to allow a lot of hard-working men to leave the city with the stigma that the people here would do nothing to help liquidate an honest debt—all of these things have combined to bring out one of the largest crowds ever seen in the local ball yard.

Women who have witnessed ball games for years without one double to the second serious states and the second serious seriou cent of cost have come forward nobly and purchased tickets. Business men whose every minute is precious have forgotten the hurly burly of the business world and will decorate scats in the grand stand this afternoon.
